

Teaser 71

So you think you're too old to count for much. Like you're an orphan. Or maybe you have come to the place where all your hopes have died. Or maybe you have lost it all and feel like you're reduced to pig-pen living the rest of your life. I have a friend named Luke—by the way, he's a doctor—who knew people with broken hearts and shattered lives. Nothing worked—not religious fanaticism—not wishful thinking—not prideful toughing it out. Then they met Him—and took a look at the real Jesus. They found Him—you will too—to be More Than Talk.
